THE TUG PIONEER SOLD.

Puget Sound Mill Co. Buys the Boat for $25,000.

History of the Portland Tugboat Company and what it did to Establish Good Service and Fair Rates.

Yesterday a special meeting of the stockholders of the Portland Tugboat Company was held at the office of Ladd & Tilton to consider the proposition of selling the tug Pioneer to A. D. Moore, of the Port Discovery Saw Mill Company, after a full discussion of the matter, the directors were authorized to make the sale. Subsequently the directors held a meeting and Mr. Moore's proposition was accepted. The transfer will probably be made today. Mr. Moore will take the tug to the Sound and use her in connection with his mill, towing logs and vessels in and out, etc.

The Portland Tugboat Company was organized March 9, 1882, with a capital stock of $100,000, of which $71,700 was subscribed and 75 per cent. of the same paid in. The object of the company was to put on a tugboat at the entrance of the Columbia river, principally for the season that boats then in operation had not sufficient power, and many delays were suffered by ships on this account; also to regulate charges, which up to this time had never been definitely understood and subject to considerable variation. The tug Pioneer was bought in Philadelphia in May, 1882. She cost there $34,000, and with alterations and cost of the trip to the port represented an outlay of about $35,000. She went into service early in October, 1882.

The first year business was not profitable, and when the first annual meeting was held, May 6, 1883, it was found that the enterprise had sunk $12,000, and $14,000. An assessment of 15 per cent. was levied on the stockholders, and it was cheerfully paid. Soon afterwards new arrangements were made with Capt. Rinard, whereby the Pioneer and two tug boats owned by him were to work together, each party receiving a proper proportion of expenses. However, before this arrangement was made, charges for towing were fixed per a schedule of rates dictated by the Portland Tug Boat Company, and based upon actual tonnage and draft of vessels towed. These rates were maintained for three years to the complete satisfaction of ship owners, ship masters and the shipping interests of this port.

Last fall Goodall, Perkins & Co. sent up two of their vessels from San Francisco, which have since been towing in and out of the Columbia river entrance. Owing to this competition, rates have been reduced to nominal figures, so that the principal stockholders of the Portland company considered that it has fulfilled its mission and that the towing business in future at reasonable rates will be regulated by the natural laws of business in this connection.

After the first year, the business of the Portland Tugboat Company was successful. In the last two following years a dividend of 10 per cent. was paid, making a total of 30 per cent. On winding up the affairs of the company the stockholders will receive but very little more than their original investment; but they have the satisfaction of knowing that the enterprise has been one which tended greatly to encourage vessels to seek the Columbia river as a loading port. The company will not incorporate as soon as proper legal advice can be given. It was the sentiment of the stockholders at yesterday's meeting that in case circumstances should again arise, they would take the same means to correct competition. Following is a list of stockholders and amounts held:

Curious Sort of Question.

Albany (N. Y.) Journal.

The prohibition vote, thrown away as it was in the state of New York, made Mr. Cleveland President of the United States. President Cleveland not long ago appointed a saloon-keeper named McCoy, postmaster at Haverhill, Ohio. The saloon-keeper, with his three brothers, on Thursday last, shot to death on the public street Dr. Northup, a prohibitionist, for trying to close the saloons of Haverhill. Who is principally responsible for this horrible crime, President Cleveland, saloon-keeping postmaster, or the prohibitionists who made Mr. Cleveland president?

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1887.

DETERMINED BY INTEREST.

On all economic questions the views of people of various localities are fixed by regard for their own interests. For this reason it becomes practically impossible to obtain the agreement of any considerable number upon any definite line of general economic policy.

Herein is the reason why no agreement can be reached as to reduction of the duties on imports. Every one admits that the government is collecting too much revenue; but where shall the reduction begin? No candid citizen of Oregon denies that the protective tariff system, in many of its results, presses with severity upon our state. But if you propose to reduce the duty on wool a large body of our people, interested in wool growing, protest. If you propose reduction of the duty on iron you will be told that though Oregon manufactures no iron now, yet she may hope to, if protection is allowed to stand. If you propose to abolish the duty on sugar, Louisiana, though a state that adheres politically to the party that comes nearest free trade, starts up with a protest. And so of nearly all the states.

Local interests in this way become paramount, and regard for them determines national policy. Kentucky has few manufactures that she wants protected against foreign products in the same line, and therefore the dominant party in Kentucky declares for general tariff reduction. But this same state is a heavy producer of tobacco and of alcoholic liquors, upon which the government collects a heavy tax; and she therefore demands that the taxes on these articles be abolished. Speaker Carlisle, in the statement recently prepared by him for the purpose of setting forth his views on revenue reform, like a true son of Kentucky said that the tobacco tax ought to be repealed.

Another illustration that goes to show how the views of people on economic questions are determined by their own interest may be obtained by attending to the various methods in which different states deal with prohibition. States that vote prohibition have no industries of great extent that are connected with or involved in the liquor question. Maine is not a vine-bearing state, and therefore sustains a policy avowedly at enmity with cultivation of the grape. California is the true home of the vine, and nobody thinks or ever will think of prohibition there. Kentucky produces whisky in enormous quantities, and as this is one of her greatest and most profitable industries she scouts prohibition. In Kansas the manufacture of alcoholic liquors never was developed to any great extent, and Kansas, having no liquor industry to protect, becomes a prohibition state.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION.

Canadian annexation is derided as a dream of a few enthusiasts on both sides of the border, but Prof. Goldwin Smith, an Englishman educated at Oxford and tory enough to be anti-Gladstone, a long resident of Canada, points out that the ultimate destiny of Canada is absorption by the American republic; that the geographical situation, the form of government, the language, the customs and the common commercial interests of the people are natural affinities that cannot always be held apart by arbitrary and artificial barriers.

Of course the annual flood of emigration from Canada to the United States is a significant fact, and the time will come when mere sentiment of devotion to the mother country will be overridden by a keen, awakened sense of common commercial and political interests. We do not attach much importance to the resolution recently introduced in the provincial assembly of Nova Scotia, to the effect that the financial and political condition of the province should be submitted to the people, with a view to a repeal of the union, and as a first step to asking the government of the United States to admit Nova Scotia as a state of that union; but while for the present the ties between Great Britain and Canada are too strong to be broken, yet in the long run the flood of self-interest overcomes sentiment and the time will come when Canada will in solemn earnest move for what Nova Scotia stirs only in spite and irritation. Canada now knows that it would be money in her pocket to be annexed to the United States, so far as her trade and manufactures are concerned, and some day Canada will put her sentimental pride in her pocket and tell England that she would like to put herself under the shelter of her natural commercial partner and guardian, Uncle Sam. The United States are entirely passive in the matter, and care little about it beyond the satisfaction of securing full control of what is the natural boundary of our nation on the North, viz., the St. Lawrence and the great lakes. The time has past for the United States to quarrel with England, but it would be money in England's pocket to let Canada join the United States if she should ever wish it.

Canada costs England more than she returns to her. To-day Canada enforces a protective tariff against her free trade mother as sternly as she does against the United States. The only advantage to England in keeping her grip on Canada is to secure the navigation of the St. Lawrence against the undivided occupation of a hostile foreign power. That was a reason of state policy worth considering seventy-five years ago, but England would be as safe to-day with the St. Lawrence and the great lakes under the undivided control of America as she would be at present with those magnificent water ways under the protection of two flags.

The truth is that the English-speaking peoples of the world have outgrown all possibility of quarrel, because their present method of settlement is by discussion and arbitration rather than by fisticuffs. England knows that there is no prospect, near or remote, of quarrel with America. "Blood is thicker than water," as the American naval captain said when he disregarded the strict principles of international law and helped Admiral Hope out of his "box" when he was bottled from the Red Rebels in 1866; and there is no invincible repugnance in both England and America to any armed conflict to settle disputes between mother and child.

No matter from what quarter of the globe England might get an angry shot, she would be perfectly sure that America would be her friend to the extent of absolute neutrality. Even after the close of our civil war, in May, 1865, when our people were rather sour toward England and Canada, the Fenian invasion was promptly squelched by the energetic and strict enforcement of neutrality by our government on the Canadian frontier. This, let it be remembered, was before the Alabama Claims settlement. The Dominion of Canada to-day, with the exception of her wooden figurehead of a governor-general, is as independent as if she were a republic. She frames her own tariffs so strictly in her own interests that English statesmen grow wild over the fact that while England pays the cost of Canada's defenses and guarantees her railway schemes, Canada refuses England an open market for her manufactures.

An eminent English statesman once said that "as we lost some of our American colonies because we insisted on taxing them we may lose others because we will not permit them to tax us." The bond between England and Canada is purely sentimental to-day, where once it was seemingly at least one of self-interest, and the drift of self-interest to-day, both for England and Canada, is toward the annexation of Canada by the United States. The United States are totally indifferent to the matter, for it is more money in Canada's pocket than our own. England's cool statesmen probably think in their hearts it would be money in England's pocket to see Canada under the wing of the only natural, powerful ally that England has in the world. The United States would pay Canada's bills that England now pays, and England would be just as safe if she petted Canada and continued to pay her bills.

Upon their tour through the Southern states the members of the interstate commission interrogated not only the managers of the railways but many manufacturers and shippers who had joined the railway managers in asking suspension of the fourth section. The iron-masters of Birmingham, Ala., were especially importunate in demands for permanent suspension. By a series of questions Judge Cooley succeeded in drawing out of them the admission that they relied on their special contracts with the railroads to drive their New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Ohio competitors out of the market. Not satisfied with the natural advantages they possessed over their Northern competitors, the Alabama manufacturers wanted the help of the Southern railroads to secure undue advantages; so that really their argument in favor of suspending the fourth clause became the very strongest argument why it should not be suspended.

THE HENRY GEORGE PARTY.

A special from New York states that the editor of the Commercial Bulletin, "one of the keenest political observers in the state," says:

The Henry George party have resolved on calling a state convention with the view of entering the next campaign in this state as an independent organization, having neither democratic nor republican affiliations. They have the conviction that they still hold not only the nearly 70,000 votes cast for Mr. George in the last mayoralty contest here, but that their numerical strength is relatively great throughout the state. They expect to put in the field a ticket of their own and elect it by what the late Horace Greeley called spontaneous combustion.

In the last number of his Standard Henry George has these remarks about the old political parties:

There is no pretense to principle on either side. The contest between them is simply in name, in which men unblushingly resort to tricks which would, if tried in a game of poker, banish them from even the worst gambling dens. The truth is, since they are no longer divided on any living question, the people have practically abandoned public affairs to the professional politicians, whose only quarrel is as to the respective share that each shall have. Plunder of the public is the only thing that holds the machinery together. The time is come, then, when a new party, having ideas and a fixed purpose, is an absolute necessity. All things point to the need of such a party, and the issues are here.

The Boston Transcript, in an article on the obsolete features of the Sunday law in Massachusetts, says: "Let all existing Sunday laws be enforced logically and to the letter and it will not be long before they will be revolutionized." The Boston Post supports this suggestion, but adds: "As the matter now stands, and as it has stood from the beginning, it is not the law which determines how Sunday shall be kept in Boston, but three men appointed by the governor, who nullify or enforce, ignore or recognize as much of the law or as little as suits their fancy, or as they happen to feel from day to day." Another excellent reason for repeal.

Col. Dell asks the "learned and polite journal," meaning, of course, THE OREGONIAN, when the New York Herald joined the democracy. It was, we believe, during or shortly after the slaveholders' rebellion. Can it have escaped Col. Dell's notice that the Herald has given its support to every democratic presidential candidate for twenty years, and that almost daily it expresses the hope that the democratic party will permanently rule the country.

Of the rigid enforcement of the Sunday law in the hotels and public resorts of New York the Times, of that city, says: "There is little doubt as to the motives of the authorities in entering on this crusade. They regard the restrictions of the law as altogether too severe and are determined to enforce them as a means of bringing home to the people the practical effects of such enforcement and creating a demand for their modification."

A San Francisco paper says: "By reason of the demand for nails the Pacific Iron and Nail Works Company at Oakland will increase the capacity of their plant from 800 kegs a day to 1500 kegs per day. Twenty-five new machines will be placed in the building." There is an impression at Portland that the like of this "won't pay."

When the English bondholders dealt with Virginia they knew she claimed to be a "sovereign state," and they gave her all the encouragement and assistance they possibly could in her effort to vindicate that "sovereignty" in war. These bondholders now needn't look to the United States for payment.

The Union Pacific's bridge over the Missouri at Omaha, has been taken down and rebuilt. The new structure is wider than the old one, has double tracks, a wagon way, and tracks for street cars and walks for pedestrians. Nothing is left of the old bridge but three piles of tubular piers.

The recent editorial shooting affair at Tacoma seems to have been hushed up. Doubtless because it was so poor an advertisement for the manufacturers of that particular style of revolver.

The work of recovering valuables from the ruins of the Hotel del Monte, California, is about ended. The ruins yield up more corkscrews than diamonds.

CONVICTS EN ROUTE.

NINETY-THREE PRISONERS FROM SEATCO TRANSFERRED TO WALLA WALLA.

Two cars, containing ninety-three convicts from the penitentiary at Seatco, en route to the new territorial prison at Walla Walla, arrived here, attached to the Tacoma train, at 2:30 P. M. yesterday. Everything had been arranged for quietly and expeditiously transferring the cars across the river. The train stopped near the Kalama freight depot and the road engine ran the two cars of prisoners out on a sidetrack while the yard engine pushed the remainder of the train up to the depot. The two cars were run down the incline aboard the transfer boat without attracting attention, and only a few obtained a glimpse of the tough-looking crowd therein and the armed guards in charge of them. The prisoners were loaded in the cars at 10:30 yesterday morning. Sixty of them were fastened in couples, the shackles being riveted on instead of being locked. These rivets will have to be cut off with hammer and cold chisel. No trouble was experienced on the route they left here. One of the prisoners, losing one of a pair of handcuffs, slipped as he saw New Tacoma and Puyallup stations standing by the track. He was recaptured by Thomas Cochran, a Tacoma boy who was sent to the county jail for carrying concealed weapons. The following is a list of the prisoners and the crimes for which they were sentenced:

[Here follows a list of names of W. Paine, sentenced for ... Allen, ... Gordon, ... Sherrill for ... has had ... charge of ... contract with the ... guard.]

[Here follows a list of names of ... sentenced for ... from Clallam, ... guard of ... fourteen. ... platform ... and two for "larceny as bailee." All the convicts were prison garb, some ... of heavy brown ... with the ... cross-wise and trousers of another style, the stripes running up and down. The rules at Seatco do not require the shaving of convicts and close cropping of hair, and there was a display of varied physiognomy in the two cars. Several of the prisoners appeared to be more than 60 years old, and two evidently had reached the three score and ten. Nineteen of the prisoners were sentenced for life. Three were Indians and two negroes. Except five or six young fellows, who were neither shackled nor manacled, it was a sullen, hard-looking crowd. They had a hearty breakfast before they left Seatco, were given a ration of sandwiches on the transfer boat at Kalama, and at Bonneville the ration was to be repeated. The train was due to reach Walla Walla at 5 o'clock this morning.

The prisoners will arrive at their destination one day in advance of expectations. For the sake of safety and to prevent any attempt at rescue, or disturbance of the train, the officers gave it out that they would not leave Seatco until Wednesday morning. It will be a joke on Capt. Paul d'Hierry of company A, Washington Guard. He has had the company on drilling for several nights and expected to meet the prisoners tomorrow morning at the depot and escort them to the penitentiary, thus relieving the guard, who would have been without sleep 24 hours. The officers thought it safer not to let the people of Walla Walla know just when the prisoners would arrive, but possibly the telegraph beat the train and company A may be on hand this morning.

Democratic Indifference to Cleveland.

Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.).

Whether Mr. Cleveland can be re-elected is given no man to determine. As the representative of a fiscal policy odious to the West and South and of a civil service claim and purpose hardly less odious to the rank and file of democrats, it matters little whether he is or not, because on those issues the country could hardly fare much worse with the republicans in power.

SCARCITY OF FISH

NO FRESH SEA FISH IN MARKET AND CHINOOK SALMON NOT PLENTY.

The fish and game markets of this city present rather a bare appearance of late The stormy weather has put a stop to deep sea fishing and the freshwater fish seen here for some time are a few striped perch from Yaquina and one or two lots from the Sound. The supply of salmon has been very meager at times Some dealers get a few fish over the wheels at the Cascades others get their supplies from traps down the river In the early part of the season the salmon received were unusually large but now they are very small the chinook sent up from the traps averaging not more than five or six pounds Blueb acks are being received in large numbers at The Dalles and an average of 100 pounds per day is being shipped to Portland The blueback is a very nice little fish but people are getting tired of it and long for some other fish for a change

Dealers say if our deep sea fishermen are sort of the shoulder fellers for as soon as the weather clears up they will send in more fish than we can handle any use for The catch of salmon on the Columbia is rather small this season Not a single dead fish or two was commenced by some one before the 1st of April the part of this time they caught about 25 000 cases—scarcely equal to what they did at this time last year although the fishermen were on a strike for about a month and but few fish were caught during that time The late heavy rains have kept the river on the rise and fishermen expect a big run as soon as the weather clears

A COFFEE HOUSE MAN DEAD

THE PIONEER FINE STREET "BUN HACKER" OF SE COMSTOCK SUICIDE.

The San Francisco papers of Sunday last mention the sudden death by the use of morphine of A Bertsch a pioneer proprietor of the Montgomery Street coffee house in that city Deceased about thirteen years ago established the first coffee house proper on the coast It was known as the Original Pike Street coffee house and soon San Francisco contained dozens of similar institutions. In 1875 Bertsch was reduced by two Portland boys then living in San Francisco to try Portland He arrived in February, leaving his San Francisco business in charge of his partner He located here on Fine street and successfully did a fine business Soon after he fitted up a handsome place on the corner of First and Pine. Others had been allowed on Front street in the business and Bertsch returned to San Francisco where he opened a similar establishment on Montgomery street. Others could no more than hold their own and Bertsch was soon a poor man. In the past ten months he had been subject to fits of despondency which brought on melancholia and finally suicide

MUST GIVE BOND—A mandate from the supreme court was received and entered in state circuit court department number 1 yesterday in the matter of the estate of Pierre Mauriet deceased on the petition of Rachel Mauriet for the removal of John Blanc as executor of the estate or to require him to give bonds for the faithful performance of his trust The matter was first agitated in the county court some months ago. Judge Caitlin refused to remove Blanc but required him to give a bond of $1 000 An appeal was taken to the state circuit court and Judge Shattuck while affirming the decision of the county court in part decided that Blanc need not furnish a bond An appeal was then taken to the supreme court The mandate received from that body affirms the decision of the county court This means that Blanc must file the bond

THE NANAIMO COMMITTEE—President Mackenzie of the board of trade yesterday appointed the following committee to solicit subscriptions to the fund for the relief of the widows and orphans at Nanaimo E D McKee chairman Charles L Field F V Al drews, Ben Selling D M Tomlin Wm Dunbar S Farrell, E G Hughes Donald Mackay, D D Oliphant, C H Meussdorffer C P Church, A Versteeg J O Shea T M Richardson and W B Honeyman This morning Mr McKee will assign these gentlemen to certain districts The Canadian association a committee appointed Monday night should consult with Mr McKee relative to co-operation in the charity

ANOTHER EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY—The business of the money-order office in this city is constantly increasing and the fact has been noted by the postal authorities at Washington A short time since Postmaster Roby sent for ten books of money order blanks and received only five An accompanying letter stated that the reason why the full number was not sent was that it was intended that this office should in future be supplied with books of these blanks containing the name of the office and numbered consecutively As this is done for only offices of considerable importance it may be considered that the Portland office is rising in the scale

NOTICE OF APPEAL—Several years ago D P Budd brought two actions in the state circuit court against the Multnomah Street Railway Company One was to recover the franchise of that part of the road running along Washington street from First to Eleventh and the other was for 100 shares of stock or its value $10 000 Judge Shattuck decided against Budd in the first case and in the second allowed him $200 Budd through his attorneys filed a motion for a new trial and for leave to file a bill of exceptions to the court's rulings Yesterday Judge Shattuck allowed ten days further time for the completion of these proceedings

THE WEST-BOUND TARIFF

RATES NAMED LAST SATURDAY BASED ON THE TARIFF OF APRIL 27, NOT APRIL 4

The transcontinental lines seem to be having a tremendously hard time to establish a Pacific coast tariff which will be satisfactory to all concerned and which can be understood The tariff published yesterday under so high an authority as Mr J M. Hannaford, traffic manager of the Northern Pacific was erroneous He through some misapprehension of the action of the transcontinental lines at Chicago last Saturday night wired the traffic officers of the Northern Pacific Oregon Short Line and O R & N in this city, naming rates subject to the Western classification In this he was evidently misinformed Yesterday Mr Thomas J. Kimball general traffic manager of the Union Pacific telegraphed Mr B Campbell general freight agent of the O R & N that the latest rates are not based on the tariff of April 4 but on the emergency tariff of April 7 Hence the rates in effect to-day are as follows

This beautiful tract of land, consisting of 208 lots, is situated in the famous fruit growing district adjoining East Portland, one-half mile east of the city limits, on the extensively traveled Base Line road, also on the main line of the Mount Tabor & East Portland railway, and only five minutes' ride from the Morrison-street bridge This land is all level, cleared and in a high state of cultivation, with fruits and berries, such as apples, plums, prunes, cherries, peaches, pears, etc., together with strawberries blackberries, and, in fact, all the fruits and berries for which this favored section is noted

Situated as it is, away from the malarial district, it is entirely free from all miasmatic influences, and is destined to become, with the rapidly increasing population of the two cities, what Berkeley and Alameda are to San Francisco—a place of beautiful homes

Through the completion of the Morrison street bridge

PARADISE SPRING FARM

Is made a delightful suburb to the city of Portland, and in less than six months passenger trains of the Mount Tabor & East Portland Railway Company will pass this property every half hour, thus making it possible for the merchant, the mechanic and the laborer to do business in Portland and live in the most delightful of all its suburbs. To the observing man we deem it unnecessary to enlarge or even to dwell upon the possibilities of Portland and its suburbs as compared with those of any other city, believing, as we do, that it is without a parallel in the United States Although the city of Portland has not yet attained the average lifetime of man, it ranks to-day in population as the forty fifth city in the Union, is the actual terminus of three transcontinental lines, has more wealth within its boundaries and a greater area of territory at its command than any other city of America.

Portland's position as a trade and travel center is as thoroughly defined on the Pacific coast as that of New York on the Atlantic, and it is safe to say that within ten years it will have a population of over 100,000 Already its real estate capacity is taxed, and right here the question arises Where will these newcomers seek homes? Will it be in the small precincts of a four story tenement house, such as is found in the densely populated cities? Will it be on the rugged hills surrounding the city, where land is already held at $8000 a block Or will it be on the

BEAUTIFUL UNBROKEN PLAIN

Extending eastward from the river, on which is situated Paradise Spring Farm? Land on either side of Paradise Spring Farm has sold as high as $1,000 per acre, and the most inferior cannot be bought to-day for less than $1000 and that only in five and ten-acre tracts, and yet we propose in this manner to give subscribers a chance to secure a regular 50 by 100 foot lot, only one hundred feet, at the same rates as sold per acre, besides adding them a present of a new, handsome, modern designed, hard finished house, all ready for occupancy These lots, 208 in number will be placed on the market at the reasonable price of $200 each, one fourth of that sum to be paid at the time of subscription and the balance in monthly installments of $10 each, without interest on deferred payments As a further inducement to populate this beautiful section, we have now in course of erection six handsome, modern designed five and seven room houses which are to be given away free to the purchasers of lots Under this arrangement six out of the 208 subscribers will become the owners of a handsome house and lot worth $1400 each for the small sum of $200, while the balance will have lots that cannot be purchased anywhere in the same locality for less than $200 each and that only in acre tracts—a fact that precludes the possibility of purchase at all by men of limited means The award of the houses to be made under the supervision of a committee of responsible and disinterested citizens, at some public hall to be agreed upon in Portland in June last.

Parties residing out of Portland can purchase under the plan of this and as well as those in the city by mail or telegraph all agreements for purchase entered into to be just as represented

Remittances can be made to us by mail or express

METHOD OF SALE

These houses, six in number together with their boards and other improvements are to be numbered on the lots where they are at present situated, and are included in the price paid for the lots ($200 each), to those who draw the fortunate numbers.

In order that all buyers may have an equal chance in the drawing, the following plan of award will be adopted The name of each subscriber will be placed on one slip of paper and a number of each lot, from 1 to 208, will be placed on another slip the two slips will be mixed in separate boxes and under the supervision of responsible and disinterested citizens will be drawn simultaneously The number drawn will designate the lot belonging to the subscriber whose name accompanies it Under this plan the names as well as the numbers will be placed in the bo

Debate in Parliament on the Coercion Bill.

DISCUSSION IN THE REICHSTAG.

War and Army Notes from Paris—No Prospect of a Commercial Treaty between Spain and the United States

ENGLAND.

DISCUSSION OF THE COERCION BILL.

LONDON, May 10.—In the house of commons today, in committee on the coercion bill, Healy moved as an amendment that a person committed for contempt of court be treated as a first-class misdemeanor. He argued that witnesses committed for refusing to answer questions ought not to be subjected to the same punishment as criminals. When the last coercion act was in effect, the mere detention of many persons shortened their lives for ten years. Cries, "hear! hear!"

Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, said persons committed could avoid punishment by answering the questions. There was no difference between cases under the clause and cases of contempt under the ordinary law.

John O'Connor, nationalist, said if the government imprisoned witnesses as common criminals for refusing to answer questions, it would be a disgrace to civilization. Why didn't they propose to apply the old-fashioned implements of torture, including the thumbscrew and the rack?

Healy's amendment was finally rejected, 195 to 141.

Healy moved to limit the penalty for contempt in cases of witnesses to seven days' imprisonment.

Healy's amendment limiting the penalty for contempt was defeated, 183 to 114. Another motion referring to witnesses was negatived. Adjourned.

CABINET MEETING.

LONDON, May 10.—An informal meeting of the cabinet was held to-day to discuss plans for expediting the passage of the coercion bill. It was decided to abandon the attempt to effect wholesale application of cloture. Ministerialists now calculate that discussion in committee will last three weeks longer.

A committee of leading conservatives has made unofficial overtures to Gladstone and Morley, with a view of finding out whether they will assent to the appointment of a commission consisting of two English judges and one Scotch judge to inquire into the charges against the Parnellites. The Gladstonians are opposed to troubling themselves any further with the question unless the government takes definite action, while the government is not disposed to make a move until the coercion bill is passed.

Chronicle members of the Eighty club have been summoned to attend a meeting for the purpose of declaring the position of the club on the home rule question. Gladstonians, being in the majority, will out-vote their opponents and compel the withdrawal of the unionists from the club.

RACING AT NEWMARKET.

LONDON, May 10.—The second spring meeting at Newmarket opened to-day. Payne stakes for three-year-olds, one and a quarter miles, won by Capt. C. Bowling's colt Carrasco, by one length; Lord Falmouth's colt Blanchland second; Manton's colt Claymore third. Other starters were the Duke of Beaufort's colt Cayenne Pepper, J. N. Buldsworth's colt Cactus, J. Lowther's colt Royal Charlie, Prince Soltykoff's colt Devilshoof, Craven's colt Hugo, Lord Bradford's colt Livingstone, and Lord Scatland's colt The Tracker. The betting was 6 to 1 against Carrasco, 2 to 1 on Blanchland, 20 to 1 against Claymore, 12 to 1 against Cayenne Pepper, 50 to 1 each against Cactus, Royal Charles, Devilshoof, Hugo, Livingstone and The Tracker. Blanchland's saddle slipped and probably accounts for his defeat. Time 3:17 3-5.

THE INDIAN TRADE.

LONDON, May 10.—The annual trade returns of India are published. Value of imports during the year, £73,660,000, against £71,130,000 the previous year; exports, £90,200,000, against £84,980,000 the previous year; revenue derived from import duties, £2,458,000, against £2,300,000 during last year; revenue from export duties, £760,000, against £740,000 during the previous year.

A PLEA FOR IRELAND.

LONDON, May 10.—The Congregationalist ministers of London at a meeting held to-day adopted almost unanimously a resolution offered by Dr. Parker of the City Temple, protesting against the Irish coercion bill now before parliament, demanding that the Irish people shall be treated with justice, and urging the government to adopt a policy of conciliation in dealing with the Irish question.

FIRST-CLASS CELLS FOR PARNELLITES.

LONDON, May 10.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a rumor that the government have ordered to be prepared sixty first-class cells in Millbank prison for the accommodation of Parnellite members of parliament whose arrest they may deem necessary. The report is discredited.

CONGRESS OF ENGLISH SPEAKING CATHOLICS.

A congress of English speaking Roman Catholics will meet in London shortly to discuss religious progress and labor and capital, temperance, and other subjects. It is expected that American prelates will attend. Cardinal Manning is the leading spirit in the movement.

QUEEN'S DRAWING-ROOM.

LONDON, May 10.—The queen had a drawing-room this afternoon at Buckingham palace. Mrs. Arthur Post and Mrs. Louise Morgan, American ladies, were among the presentations to her majesty in diplomatic circles.

BAIT BILL APPROVED.

The Times announces that the government has sanctioned the New Foundland bait bill. The law will come into operation in 1888.

GERMANY.

DEBATE IN THE REICHSTAG.

BERLIN, May 10.—The reichstag to-day began debate on the first reading of the spirit bill. Minister Von Schorz, in presenting the bill, urged the necessity of increasing the revenue of the empire, in view of the greater precautions demanded for the security of the fatherland. The bill, he said, especially affected agricultural interests. The government believed, however, that the South German states, without endangering the interests of their distilleries or agricultural classes, could support the tax.

A majority of the speakers that followed declared in favor of the bill. Riedel, Bavarian finance minister, stated that he would support the bill in the general interest of Germany, but Bavaria was not disposed to renounce her rights. She could not approve the reserve and demanded careful inquiry as to whether or not the business of the Bavarian distilleries would suffer under the bill.

Representative Schmid, of Wurtemburg, said the bill met the views of the Wurtemburg government. It was an especially happy circumstance that the measure threw a fresh bond of union around Germany. Adjourned until to-morrow.

ORDERS TO THE EMPEROR.

BERLIN, May 10.—Emperor William's physicians have ordered him not to go to Gastein this year.

FRANCE.

WAR AND ARMY NOTES.

PARIS, May 10.—In relation to a dispatch from Berlin, stating that experiments showed that melinite decomposes if kept long and, is therefore of no use for war purposes, the government asserts that the substance experimented with in Berlin was not melinite and base their assertion on the fact that melinite is unknown in Germany.

In the chamber of deputies to-day Gen. Boulanger, minister of war, explained his bill for an experimental mobilization of the army in October. The chamber, however, decided that the sugar tax bill must precede the military bill.

The chamber of deputies has agreed to a sur tax of 10 francs per 100 kilogrammes on all sugars.

Gen. Boulanger's mobilization bill provides for a credit of 50,000,000 francs to defray the expenses of the experiment. The maximum time for mobilization is fixed at ten days.

THE SCHNAEBLE'S CASE.

LONDON, May 10.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says: The Leipsic supreme court has prepared an indictment against persons arrested for connection with the case in which the French commissary Schnaebele was implicated, and trial of which will begin a fortnight hence. The indictment covers all the evidence in detail collected during several months past, and lays much against Frances as against the prisoner.

DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST "LA FRANCE."

PARIS, May 10.—M. Lumbreaut, manager of the Eden theater, in which "Lohengrin" was produced recently, but which was withdrawn owing to opposition by the people to German works, has entered suit against the newspaper La France to recover 50,000 francs damages for an attack made upon the opera.

HAVRE, May 10.—The cargo of the steamer La Charmagne, which was beached on the coast of Salvador, after having had a hole stove in her side by a collision with the steamer Ville du Rio de Janerio, was recovered by salvors.

SPAIN.

A PROMISE FOR CUBA.

MADRID, May 10.—In congress to-day Cuban home rulers declared that the government, unless it promptly found means to improve the prospects of the Spanish West Indies by granting the liberty demanded by creoles, would find itself unable to check the Cuban movement in favor of annexation to America. Moret, minister of foreign affairs, replying for the government, said Spain and America desired a reciprocity treaty, whereby, although it was impossible to obtain privileges for the West Indies' sugar, Spain hoped to secure advantage in return for concessions in favor of American imports. On behalf of the government he opposed home rule, but promised early political and tariff reform.

NO COMMERCIAL TREATY PROBABLE.

MADRID, May 10.—The minister of foreign affairs informed congress to-day that it was improbable that a commercial treaty between the West Indies and the United States would be arranged. The government is not inclined to enter upon a tariff war.

MEXICO.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

CITY OF MEXICO, (via Galveston), May 10.—The sentence of death which has been pronounced on Col. A. Arvizu, Lieut. Gutierrez and Sargent Valenzula, of the Mexican army, for having violated the army regulations by crossing the border at Nogales, illegally, is said to be the result of the opinion of the government that a severe example must be made to prevent in future similar dangerous occurrences, which might bring about international difficulties. Among some American residents it is felt that while the sentence may be legally just, commutation of the sentence might be gracefully asked of the Mexican government by the United States. It was expected here that the sentence would be executed to-day, but no news to that effect reached here from the frontier.

The government meteorological bureau report that the recent earthquake shock traversed Mexico through the Sierre Madre mountains, which cross the country from northwest to southeast.

The American legation has been removed to a spacious, handsome building, where Minister Manning also has his residence.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO.

GUAYMAS, May 10.—Shocks have continued at Ures. Many buildings were cracked and rendered unsafe. Nobody was hurt, but the inhabitants are leaving as fast as possible. A large slice of a mountain near town fell down with a terrible crash. The friction of the rocks ignited the woods, causing a belief that a volcano had broken out. At the Pelicula Santa Elena mine the earthquake caused a great panic. The whole hill fell down, scattering rocks amongst 150 persons. Fortunately nobody was hurt. The districts beyond telegraphic communication have not been heard from. The authorities are awaiting couriers.

CANADA.

ENFORCING THE TREATY OF 1818.

HALIFAX, May 10.—The American schooner Clara J. Friend, which put in here yesterday from western banks, applied to the customs authorities for permission to buy a quantity of provisions. Consul General Phelan telegraphed to the minister of customs, who replied that no American vessel could purchase provisions in a Canadian port under the provisions of the treaty of 1818 now in force.

IRELAND.

DILLON HAS A PLAN.

DUBLIN, May 10.—At a meeting to night of the Irish national league Dillon said he had clearly in his mind a line of policy for the people of Ireland, which he would produce at the proper moment and knock the bottom out of the coercion bill. When the coercion bill was passed landowners would find that the plan of campaign would continue without the slightest interruption or inconvenience. His proposed policy would involve neither crime nor violent resistance to law.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, May 10.—At a fortnightly meeting of the national league to-day the treasurer's report showed that expenses since the previous meeting exceeded receipts $660.

AUSTRIA.

RACE HATRED CONTINUES.

VIENNA, May 10.—The strife between Germans and Czechs continues. A violent scene occurred to-day in the lunchroom between German and Czech deputies. Prof. Mansen was hooted at the university. Fierce attacks have taken place at Prague between German students and a Czech mob.

IN FAVOR OF THE FRENCH EXHIBITION.

VIENNA, May 10.—Count Zichy writes in favor of Hungary entering the French exhibition as an expression of the thanks of the nation for the liberty which originated in France, and which has largely benefited Hungary.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND IN AFRICA.

PARIS, May 10.—The Temps says an agreement has been made between Salisbury and Flourens, dividing the spheres of action of England and France in East Africa. England recognizes the rights of France over the Obock territory and the gulf of Tadjourah, and cedes the island of Mashab to France. The frontier of the French territory extends from Cape Dilbouijeh to Harrar. France admits the authority of England over the territories of Cape Djibouyeh.

THE BEAR'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Her Captain Given Full Powers to Enforce the Laws in Alaska.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Fairchild today addressed a letter to Capt. M. A. Healey, commanding the revenue steamer Bear at San Francisco, which will soon set sail for Alaskan waters, clothing him with full power to enforce the law which prohibits the killing of any otter, mink, marten, sable or fur seal, or other fur bearing animal within the limits of Alaska territory, or in the waters thereof, except under the law and department regulations. Capt. Healey's attention is called to section 1961, revised statutes, which forbids the killing any where of female seals and seals less than one year old, and he is instructed to use the force at his command to the end that no persons attached to or connected with any vessel of the United States violate this law, and shall enforce the penalties provided for such violation. He is also enjoined to be diligent in inforcing the law against the importation of intoxicating liquors and breech-loading rifles and ammunition into the territory of Alaska, as provided by the executive order of May 1. These orders are almost identical with those issued on the same subject last year. No reference is made to the alleged encroachment on our fishery rights by foreign nations. That question still forms a subject of negotiations between this country and Great Britain, and the policy of this government with regard to it naturally remains unsettled.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

RE SAVED THE VESSEL.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 10.—The tug Mollie Spencer arrived here at noon from Duluth and reported encountering the steam barge Bessemer, ore laden, about thirty miles east of Otter island, Friday, blowing signals of distress. The Bessemer's bow had been stove in by ice, and she made thirty-nine inches of water in eight minutes after the accident. Chamberlain, second mate of the Bessemer, saved the steamer from foundering by a daring act. He took a pair of blankets, and had himself lowered overboard until he was in the icy water up to his neck. Then taking the blankets between his feet he got them down by the hole, and the suction drew them in, filling it so that the pumps kept her free. Five hundred tons of her 1,200 in a cargo of ore were then thrown overboard, lightening her greatly.

A STRIKE CONDEMNED.

PITTSBURG, May 10.—In an interview to-day A. M. Carlton, of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, condemning the strike of Knights in the coke regions. Said he: "Whenever our men agree to submit the case to arbitration they are bound to submit to it, no difference what the decision may be. Arbitration is our grand principle. If we submit a case to arbitration we would expect the other side to abide by it, if it were in our favor. Now, when it is against us and we don't submit, then they can bring the case up again and ask for arbitration?"

BROADWAY FILLED WITH FOREIGNERS.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Seldom has lower Broadway presented as picturesque an aspect as at present, in consequence of the curiously diversified character of a vast throng of "foreign relations" who every hour of the day sally out from Bartholdi Garden in groups of twenties, fifties and hundreds, with baggage on their backs, to the different railroad depots farther up town and along the river front.

How to Get Strong.

Dumb-bells and horizontal bars, Indian clubs and the trapeze are valuable under certain conditions, but they are detrimental rather than beneficial if the blood is poor and thin and poisoned with bile. Use of the muscles necessitates waste as well as induces growth. If the blood does not carry sufficient nutritive material to repair the waste, loss of strength necessarily follows, and growth is out of the question. Purify and enrich your blood with Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and then exercise will develop and not consume your physique.

THE NEW ARMORY.

Contract Let and Signed Yesterday for its Construction.

The Cost to be $32,000 and the Work to be Finished by September 20—Brief Description of the Building.

Bids for the construction of a regimental armory for the accommodation of the militia companies of this county on the south half block 69, Couch's addition, bounded by D and Ninth and Tenth streets, were opened yesterday at the office of William F. McCaw, architect. The bids were as follows: J. E. Smith, $30,007; G. W. Brown, $42,000; John Robertson, $33,410; Hobkirk & McKenzie, $32,517; Langford & Bridges, $34,718, each bid being accompanied by a certificate of deposit for 5 per cent. of the respective amounts, as an evidence of good faith. The contract was awarded to J. E. Smith. He signed the contract and gave bonds for the faithful performance of the work, his sureties being William Honeyman and George W. Weidler. Work will commence as soon as the weather permits. A remarkable fact in connection with the bids is that all except one fell below the estimate, which was $35,000. In Mr. Smith's bid lime and cement are not included. These will be furnished by the county and will cost about $2500, making the total cost of the building $32,000.

The armory will be 160x200 feet, and will face east. The foundation walls will be twenty-nine inches thick and rest in concrete footings. Between the ground and the first floor there will be an airspace of two and a half feet. The first story will be twelve feet high, built of stone, the walls twenty-five inches in thickness. There will be several partition walls of brick. At the east end the first floor will be four feet above the ground, and at the west two feet below. The stone for the first story is to be hassle, roughly squared and partly pointed. The second story will be of brick, with smooth struck joints. The roof will be a truss covered with tin.

The building will face the east and the front will be finished with battlement gables and parapets. On the southeast and the northwest corners there will be octagonal bastions of the same materials as the building. These will be filled with loop holes and surmounted by parapets. As each bastion is manned, troops stationed in these bastions could easily defend the four walls of the armory from successful attacks by a mob.

On the first floor, which will be reached by stone steps through massive portals, there will be six company rooms 24x30 feet. In each room there will be sixty three lockers, one for each man and one for each officer. These rooms will be situated on the south side of the armory. Next will be the artillery room, 30x75 feet, and beyond that an unfinished space 100x35 feet, which can be used for any purpose required in future. On the north side there will be a band room 30x30 feet, a library 20x15, room for non commissioned officers 20x15, quartermaster's room 20x15, and a double room, with sliding doors, for the colonel and adjutant. Beyond these will be two squad rooms, each 30x31 feet. A room for the board of officers will be situate in the southeast corner. Between the two rows of rooms there will be an assembly hall 42x100 feet.

The second story will be used exclusively for a drill floor. This will be 95x104 feet. There will be a narrow platform, one step high, arsenal each side, and a small gallery in the east end for the band and visitors. The staircase will be nine feet wide. A room for the janitor and one for the janitor will be located on this floor, one in each section.

The officers' quarters and company rooms will be lighted with gas, and the assembly hall and drill floor with electric lights. The contract requires that the building shall be completed by September 20. When done it will be an ornament to the city and a pride of the militia. The construction of the armory marks an epoch in the history of the citizen-soldiery of the state of Oregon.

THE EAST SIDE.
